

MASERGY ADDS SD-WAN GO MANAGED SERVICE FOR NEXT-GENERATION NETWORKING

With Two SD-WAN Options, CIOs Gain Choice and Flexibility

DALLAS – May 23, 2017 – Masergy today unveiled SD-WAN Go, a major extension of its Software-Defined Platform. This dynamic network service is an agile and cost-effective solution that can be rapidly deployed at locations around the globe.

SD-WAN Go complements Masergy's existing SD-WAN Pro solution, giving customers two options to address any budget and connectivity requirement. Both services offer seamless integration with Masergy's Hybrid Networking solutions.

Most SD-WAN solutions are proprietary and lock customers into a single vendor or technology approach. Only Masergy's managed SD-WAN services let customers reap the benefits of SD-WAN while reducing the risk of an "all-or-nothing" solution.

"Adopting SD-WAN Go is like moving from a paper map to Google Maps. We give users real-time visibility into their WANs," said Masergy CEO Chris MacFarland. "SD-WAN Go lets businesses rapidly and securely add locations and introduce network intelligence to meet their application performance needs."

SD-WAN Go lets companies use existing or new connections (private, dedicated, broadband or 4G) to securely tunnel and route data across the public Internet and over Masergy's Software-Defined Platform with:

- Zero-touch provisioning
- WAN Optimization
- Centralized policy and configuration management
- Access agnostic
- Secure local Internet offload
- PoP-to-cloud SLAs
